GC Preparing For 2-Way Traffic Downtown

Outline Of New System
May Be Presented To
City Council Tonight

Preparations are underway to resume two-way traffic on 19th street and on State street in the downtown business district, but the date for the changeover has not been set.

Police Chief Raymond Willard is working on an outline for the new system. It will be on an experimental basis and probably will need revising once we're able to study traffic flow and patterns with two-way street," the chief said.

The amendment to restore two-way traffic on the two downtown streets was approved nearly five months ago by the council but was held in abeyance until the downtown fire department was relocated. Its new quarters at 23rd street and Madison avenue. The department moved May 26.

Under the change, 19th street will be open to two-way traffic for its full length, including the present one-way portion between Cleveland and Madison avenue. State street will be available for two-way traffic from 18th street to Niedringhaus avenue, but will remain restricted to one-way, southbound traffic between Niedringhaus avenue and 24th street.

The only other one-way streets in the business district are Grand avenue, northbound, and Edison avenue, also northbound.

The return to two-way traffic on the two streets was proposed by the Associated Retailers & Civic Association.

In the first five months of the year, the city's daily accident average was 2.9.

Teacher Pay Requests Raise Prospect of Tax Referendum

Pay requests of the three Quad-City teachers' locals for 1960-61, if granted in full, could push all three school districts beyond their authorized educational tax rates, a Press-Record analysis showed today.

Latest rates certified for the education fund are $1.847 in the Granite City district, $1.3208 in Madison and $1.1062 in Venice, compared to maximum authorized rates of $1.75, $1.50 and $1.25, respectively. If the taxes are not due to collection and nonpayment were estimated at 2%, maximum available rates would be $1.6625, $1.4250 and $1.1875.

Estimated costs of teacher pay requests and scheduled salary increments (automatic raises) total $360,000 in Granite City, $86,532.926 and $30,450 in the Venice district. With assessed valuation totaling $171,154,877, $53,928,962 and $30,450 in the three districts, one cent of tax on $100 valuation would pay $1.75, $1.50 and $1.25, respectively. If the taxes are not due to collection and nonpayment were estimated at 2%, maximum available rates would be $1.6625, $1.4250 and $1.1875.

Series Of Burglaries Solved By Arrests

Madison, Venice Store,
School Thefts Cleared;
Arrests In Other Cases

A series of seven burglaries occurring in Madison and Venice last week was solved by police of the two cities with the arrest of two teenagers. Most of the loot, which was taken from three schools, three business places and a home, was recovered and returned to the owners.

Arrests also were made in two other Quad-City thefts, and stolen musical instruments were recovered in a third weekend theft case. Five other reports are being investigated by area police.

Three school burglaries in Madison and four break-ins in Venice were solved Thursday with the arrest of two 15-year-old Venice boys who had run away from their homes on Weaver street.

Earlier, two Madison boys had been apprehended for a fourth Madison theft, resulting in all eight Madison and Venice cases being solved.

As the burglary reports began to accumulate, Madison and Venice police compared their information and narrowed their lists of logical suspects. The departments alerted their officers to be on the look-out for the two Venice youths. One had been away from his home for two days and the other for a week, sleeping in autos and in a coal shed.

While patrolling Thursday, Madison police saw the two in the area of Third street and Madison avenue and stopped to question them. They had been taken from Madison schools and items that had been taken June 1 from Garret's drug store in Venice. The store theft had not yet been reported to Venice police.

The boys related during questioning that they had planned to leave this area as soon as they obtained enough money. They admitted burglarizing the Dunbar school on the night of May 30 and Madison high school on the night of May 31. Blair grade school on the night of May 31.

Some of the articles taken at Madison high and the junior high were trapped at a garage June 1, aiding in the narrowing of the list of suspects. With police motorist stopped to permit them to complete their journey across the busy thoroughfare and traffic was stalled behind him for a one-block distance.

"We can't clear these streets in proper order if pedestrians keep dashing into the street away from the corner. Vehicle are entering the 1500 block of Edison avenue from 19th street from the 1800 block and from bank driveway windows and parking lots.

"On occasion, motorists will stay in the right lane only, forgetting that Edison is a one-way street and both move."

16 Persons Hurt In 20 Area Traffic Accidents

Five In Family Injured
As Auto Overturns On Route 111 Near Pontoon

Injuries were suffered by 16 persons in seven of the 20 traffic accidents reported to local, county and state authorities over the past weekend.

Among the most serious, a Rockford family of five suffered injuries and three are hospitalized here. In two other accidents, three injuries were reported and several lesser crashes, causing minor injuries, also occurred in the Quad-City area.

Six persons, including a family of five from Rockford, Ill., were injured about 5 a.m. Saturday in a collision on State Route 111 at the Pontoon road intersection. The auto in which the family of Charles Sandusky of Rockford was riding was overturned in the crash.

Three members of the Sandusky family were injured seriously. They were Charles Sandusky, a plumber, who was hospitalized for cuts to his head; his wife, Rebecca, 25, who suffered facial cuts and abrasions to her right knee and leg; and daughter, Joyce, 2, who was admitted to a hospital.

Two other members of the couple's youngsters, Ricky, 8, and Brenda, 4, were treated for minor injuries, as was the driver of the other car, Gary R. Mines, 20, of Wood River. He suffered abrasions to his left knee.

County authorities said both vehicles were traveling north on Route 111 and the crash occurred as Sandusky stopped at the intersection and the rear of his car was struck by Mines' machine.

Three Hurt In Collision. Three persons were injured and five charges were filed as a result of a two-way collision at 10 p.m. Friday at Fifth street and Madison avenue in Madison. Involved were the northbound auto of Frank Sellers, 50, of 1800 S. Wood street, Madison, and the westbound car of Harry E. Neuling, 16, of 2801 Wayne avenue.

Neuling was charged with reckless driving and Sellers with reckless driving while under the influence of alcohol, having an open bottle of alcohol in his auto and passing a stop sign. Both drivers received citations. Sellers' auto was towed to a garage.

An additional charge of intoxication was placed against Sellers on Saturday when he appeared before Justice of the Peace L. R. Roney, Celeste, Ill. The complaints filed as a result of the accident and a June 2 charge of disorderly conduct. He was released on bond.

MORE ABOUT Granite City Traffic

ment lanes can be utilized to double the flow of traffic.

"Another bottleneck develops when a driver wants to make a left turn," Lt. Moore pointed out. "He'll stop in his traffic lane, waiting for other traffic to clear and completely halt the movement of cars behind him."

"It would be a simple matter for the driver to pull to the middle of the intersection to wait for the turn and permit the cars behind him to go around."

The traffic lieutenant in giving another hint, said that a speedy getaway is needed to increase the flow of traffic. "A nucleus of drivers," Lt. Moore said, "can start on the light flashes green for them. They know it's coming, for there's an amber light before the green, but just getting off to a slow start will permit only a half a dozen cars to get through the light, when if motorists were alert, twice that number could move away."

More Study Needed

"This is not the complete answer," Lt. Moore said, "but if motorists would just be alert, pedestrians would adhere to the lights and use the crosswalks, the problem could be solved. He added there is a need for crosswalks to be repainted and possible revision of parking in the vicinity of the intersection to further improve the traffic flow."

"I don't know just what problems will arise when 19th street and State street are returned to two-way traffic," Lt. Moore said. "It could divert some east-bound Niedringhaus avenue traffic to 19th street and some northbound Edison avenue traffic to State street. We'll just have to wait and see."

One five o'clock motorist commented, "the best way to beat the jam at the intersection is to avoid it."

Press-Record Honored By Heart Association

The Granite City Press-Record was presented this week with an award of merit by the board of directors of the Illinois Heart Association for outstanding service in stimulating public support against heart disease during the 1960 Heart Fund drive. The presentation was by Charles White, president of Region X-1 of the state association.

White said the award was based on the amount and quality of news coverage given the campaign as well as the newspaper's year round reporting on the associations programs of research, education and community service.

"It is through pertinent medical approved information that fears and myths about heart disease are dispelled and new hope is brought to heart patients," White said.

Venice Asks To Join Madison In Constructing Dog Pound

Venice aldermen Friday night approved Mayor John E. Lee's recommendation that the city ask to join in the proposed construction of a Madison animal shelter. The shelter would be located on a 10-acre tract at the intersection of Broadway and 4th street, near the intersection of Broadway and 4th street, near the intersection of Broadway and 4th street.

The shelter, a "dog pound" is to be built in the city of Venice near the pumping station serving Madison. The Madison city council last week authorized construction of a 26x40-foot concrete block building and approved a contract with Architect Virgil Dulerger for preparation of plans.

Dr. Lee said the city of Venice also needs a dog pound, and the Venice council that the economy could result from a joint venture, since some facilities could be consolidated. Among these would be the gas chamber, he reported.

The mayor was instructed to contact Madison Mayor Stephen Maers to discuss the proposal. Dr. Lee said naming of a humane officer and arrangements for care of the dog pound would have to be worked out. He concluded that he will report back to the aldermen at their next meeting.

Also scheduled for possible later action was some form of regulation of "snow cone," soft drink and ice cream wagons. Alderman James Miller, Oscar King and Hank Szevia were appointed as a committee to make a study and then confer with City Attorney Harry E. Hartman.

Dr. Lee said the topic has aroused considerable discussion in Venice, with the comments, "good, bad and indifferent." Adding that "there are a lot of people who are against it," he said. The committee could recommend a licensing program, other action or no action.

The mayor announced that he will call a meeting of the council's finance committee to begin preparation of the 1961 city budget and appropriation ordinance.

Order Second Police Car

A lone bid of $1499 plus trade-in was accepted by the council on purchase of a second new police auto, a 1960 Chevrolet, from Matthews Chevrolet Co. of Granite City.

In May, the council had accepted an identical bid from Matthews in ordering a new patrol car. Three other bids were considered in May.

In both cases, 1958 Chevrolets are to be used as trade-ins. Delivery is scheduled this summer. The new autos will have heavy-duty shock absorbers and other heavy-duty equipment, and the sirens and other present equipment will be transferred without extra cost.

New Police Radio Sets
Acting on bids on installing four new two-way vehicle radios to conform with a revised police radio frequency, the council accepted a $2316 bid from the General Electric Co. district office in St. Louis, Harbor Sales and Service of Alton bid $2348 on similar radios.

The third bid, $1854 from Electronics Engineering Co. of Madison, listed 15-watt units instead of the needed 50 or 60 watts. City Controller Carl Byrnes reported. All of the bids included trade-in of present radios.

With an estimated 45 days for delivery of the radios, they may not be received until after the new police cars are in use, the mayor noted.

Selection of the $2316 bid was recommended by Radio Engineer William Guenewig. Dr. Lee said Guenewig, who services radios for many cities in this area, will have a spare General Electric radio that he can install in any vehicle as a substitute while making any radio repairs.

Approximately 200 boys between the ages of eight and 13 have enrolled in the program, Brown said, some for two weeks. Weekly attendance at the camps is expected to be about 30 boys. They will receive individual and group instruction in baseball, football, swimming, bowling, roller skating and basketball, plus physical fitness exercises under the supervision of the two sports camp directors, Joe Fedora and Conrad "Babe" Champion.

Initial registration for boys enrolled in the first week's program will be held at 9 a.m. Monday. Boys will receive their sports camp T-shirts at that time. Physical fitness exercises and a baseball practice will be held Monday morning, followed by a trip by cab to a downtown restaurant for lunch.

Tuesday's schedule includes morning bowling and afternoon baseball practice and lectures on the day's events. Physical fitness exercises, football practice, swimming and refreshments will be offered on Wednesday.

A two-hour morning roller skating period is scheduled on Thursday, with baseball practice and a baseball game at 5 p.m. afternoons. The campers will receive physical fitness and basketball instruction Friday morning, hear a lecture on the week's events, swim at the park pool and receive recreation awards presented by park board President Barry Loman Friday afternoon.

The boys will be transported to and from the moon meal location each day. Roll call will be held each morning at 9 o'clock. All expenses are covered by the $10 weekly fee, Brown said. Similar schedules will be followed each week.

Team Openings For Park Invitational Tourney

A limit of 10 entries has been set by park district Recreation Director Harold Brown for the July 14 park invitational softball tournament, to be played on the Wilson Park softball diamond. Five entries already have been accepted, Brown said they include the Ravens, who won the title in 1959 while playing under the Second Baptist banner, Spangler Oil and Millie and Mickey's, all of Granite City, plus the Frisco Railroad squad from St. Louis and Norb's Northlanders from Alton.

The Downstate Fisherman

By PETE BROWN

(Prepared by the Southern Illinois University Information Service from area reports.)

Southern Illinois weather has a way of making fools out of prophets but, at the risk of such a stultifying development, it must be said that conditions appear to be settling for some favorable fishing.

It's already favorable in two locations, the state properties at Horseshoe and Murphysboro. Of the two, Horseshoe Lake is hottest at the moment, with crappie, bluegill, and stripers hitting regularly. Crappie are running bigger than last year according to all reports; half and three-quarter pounders are fattening most catches. Redear are showing up on bluegill strings with more frequency than even before. Trotliners are hauling in good catches of bluegills and bluegill-size minnows are doing right smart on carp and bass below the spillway. The lake is in good condition, about four inches higher. Jacobson, who has been fishing here for a long time, says that overabundantly popular Rock Bass is still the top brooder for almost everything bass included.

Murphysboro's May run of bluegill has just got underway and Caretaker Judge Ellis swears they're coming in bigger than ever. He's got a little too high for best fishing. As soon as the Ohio drops a bit, taking both the river in Kentucky and the basin game will be closed and the rush will be on. Across the river in Kentucky, small lakes like Long Pond, Swan Pond, Fish Lake and Sandy Slough are giving Cairo area anglers some sensational action, with it some of the Outfit's crappie strings of 100 and 200 plus, the basin game will be closed and the rush will be on.

Bluegill fishing is good at Lake Glendale, where bass are coming out regularly. Non-resident license is $3.50 and you get $1 to put in your pocket. Six Fans 11 In Park Loop 1-0 No-Hitter

The first regulation-distance no-hitter of the season in the Granite City park softball leagues was turned in Saturday night at Wilson Park as Leo Six pitched Millie and Mickey's to a 1-0 decision over the Ravens in a Classic League make-up game.

Millie and Mickey's could manage only two hits off loser Norm Grote. One of them was Six's single in the third while Harold Portell drove home Jim Cox with the only run of the game in the fourth, when he singled after Cox had walked.

The Ravens managed to put four men on base in the seventh. Six walked three, and a runner reached first on an infield error in the sixth. The winning pitcher struck out 11 batters, including two in the first five frames.

In Saturday evening's first game, another make-up of a previously rained-out Classic contest, Spangler Oil bunched all its scoring in two innings to defeat American Legion Post 113 by the score of 12-5.

The winners batted around in the fourth while scoring seven runs, and eight batters went to the plate as Spangler capped the contest with five more markers in the seventh. Roy Hoffman twirled a four-hitter to pick up the win, while loser Ozzie Samask gave up nine safeties. Dave Pletky was the contest's hitting star, as he hit home runs in the first and seventh innings for the American Legion post. Ron Dillard was the one out of the park for the winners in the seventh, while Catcher Clarence Hamilton also connected for four bases for the losers.

The Philadelphia Warriors had the best record last season, winning 49 of 75 league games.

County Board Sets Minimum For JP Districts

A resolution setting a minimum population requirement of 20,000 for election of justices of the peace and constables in the county next year was adopted Friday morning during a brief special meeting of the county board of supervisors at Edwardsville.

Justices of the peace and constables are to be elected by districts next year instead of by township under provisions of a new state law, but a decision as to the number of districts into which the county is to be divided and the question of fixing salaries will be determined at a future meeting.

Harry Briggs, Nameoki township supervisor and chairman of the board's legislation committee, said following Friday's meeting that more study is to be given the establishment of districts and that possibly a series of meetings will be held before a decision is reached.

The plan of districts and number to be set up in the county can be fixed by the board after the census is available on the federal decennial census which is in the process of being compiled.

Devil-may-care Illinois drivers are due for a jolt—and an electronic jolt at that.

A "one-two punch" combination of lightning-fast electronic record processing at Springfield and penalty points for traffic violations is catching up with hundreds of Illinois motorists who have proved by their driving—that they are highway hazards.

And the state is now telling them so thru a "Dear Driver" letter which is only slightly less subtle than the "Growing to draft of World War II. There's no writ-tapping. The state says simply: one more moving traffic violation and you start walking.

The "Dear Driver" letter is an official state warning to motorists who have two moving traffic violations on their records that a third offense—within a period of 12 months—means suspension of the drivers license.

The standard word "but I didn't know" doesn't work anymore. Every Illinois driver knows he has two traffic strikes against him before the third one happens because of the "Dear Driver" letter.

Despite widespread publicity, thousands of Illinoisans apparently are unaware of the fact that three moving traffic offenses in a year's time can legally make a pedestrian out of a driver. "Grounded" is the word fieri use.

Briefly, here's how it happens. Each time you are convicted of a traffic violation or you forfeit bond in a traffic case, that information is sent to Springfield. Your driver's license record is pulled electronically from the files in the license bureau and the traffic offense noted on your record.

A state law requires the forwarding of this information to Springfield.

When a second violation is reported, the electronic brain again recalls the fact in your file and at the same time indicates a "Dear Driver" warning letter is due if the two offenses occurred within 12 months.

Attached to your file record is a folded, tip-out sheet. That's the printed "Dear Driver" letter from Secretary of State Carpenter.

Before the letter is sent out, a review officer crosschecks against electronic error. The postman delivers this warning: a third violation in the 12 month period and you walk.

Legislators' Workload Justifies Annual Sessions Of State Assembly

The political deadlock that prevented legislation on Chicago police reform has somewhat obscured the fact that a large amount of business confronted the Illinois general assembly when it was called into special session this spring.

Bills passed included the one for which the session primarily was called, an emergency $35,000,000 appropriation to continue state relief payments until next February. By then, the regular biennial session will have started and the legislators will be faced with providing more money.

Other measures passed included a $330,000 appropriation to aid flooded areas, continued election of downstate county auditors regardless of population changes, a requirement that justices of the peace make reports on revenue received from their cases and creation of a census procedure to replace a 1961 primary for nomination of JP candidates in newly-created justice districts. Minor bills adopted included clarification of powers of water districts in Lake and DuPage counties.

While there were charges that the special session call was politically motivated, it seems clear that there is enough business before the general assembly to justify more frequent sessions than once every two years. This is not to say that the rate of creating new laws should be increased; so many new ones are passed each biennium that it is hard for the public and taxing bodies to keep up with them. One wonders how the state existed prior to each new flood of legislation.

But the confusion and hurry that traditionally develop toward the end of regular sessions indicate that the legislators have a large workload. When so much law passing is squeezed into so short a time, most of the state senators and representatives simply do not have the time to give each proposal full study. Perhaps now would be a good time to give serious thought to converting to a regular schedule of annual sessions of the Illinois legislature.

Jobs Plentiful For Students Receiving Degrees This Spring

An open letter from the U. S. Department of Labor to those graduating from college this spring tells them that they can look to the future with confidence because of the continued "vitality of the American economy." Job opportunities are plentiful for the 405,000 students receiving bachelor degrees on May 31. An estimated 85,000 qualifying for advanced degrees, and starting salaries for male graduates will be 3% to 5% higher than a year ago, although recruiters visiting campuses have been more selective than last year.

Government data indicates that a large percentage of the 160,000 women graduates will become teachers. For men, advances in the missile, nuclear energy and electronics fields have increased the heavy demand for engineers, but those at the lower end of the academic ladder who have specialized in aeronautical, civil, industrial and petroleum engineering may have to leave the campus to find a job. There are excellent openings for chemistry graduates, especially those with advanced degrees, and the outlook is favorable for mathematics majors, statisticians and actuaries.

The federal government urgently needs physicists, engineers, architects, metallurgists and electronic scientists, and has good openings for economists, writers, revenue officers and claims examiners. In the business world, many jobs are open for salesmen, management trainees and accountants. The demand is high for meteorologists, biologists and experts in controlling insects and plant diseases, while psychologists, sociologists, Ph. D. degrees are being urgently sought by mental hospitals, clinics, prisons, schools and colleges.

Rounding out the employment outlook, the 7100 medical doctors graduating this year will not even replace those who will retire or die, much less take care of the increase needed due to population gains. Dentist prospects are excellent, and there is a shortage of veterinarians, technicians, therapists and allied workers. And it should not be overlooked that the newspaper field has much to offer young men interested in the "fourth estate" — the demanding but interesting task of making the three official government branches of our democracy work effectively by performing the fourth function — keeping the public informed.

Growing Red Influence Places Extra Responsibility On Parents, Educators

A report by Senator Thurmond to the House Un-American Activities Committee on his observation of last month's riots at the committee hearings in San Francisco emphasized that most of the participants were students. He testified that the riots were "inspired and incited by Communists or fellow-travelers," and he placed most of the blame on "the lack of self-discipline and moral training of the young people involved."

The South Carolina senator viewed as a "disturbing development" enemy agents' success in "distorting American concepts and influencing the minds of young Americans." "This should impress on our minds the fact that Communist efforts to misdirect and mislead the formative minds of the youth of the United States is every bit as dangerous, if not more so, than their open and espionage activities in this country," he said. Most American youths have self-discipline and moral stamina, but the riots and the rousing welcome accorded Russian leaders in the same city indicate that some youths are susceptible to the Communist line. The Biblical saying that "the truth shall make you free" has always applied to this nation; its success in establishing and maintaining freedom so, then their appeal to dictatorship, and that this truth has been widely disseminated and believed.

An answer to the problem typified by the riots may be greater emphasis on democratic principles and the need to defend them; citizens of all ages must use common sense, and not just oppose for the sake of opposing. Student action has been responsible for the return of freedom to some countries, but it has done harm in other lands. Certainly, an uprising against democratic concepts, with use of mob force in a nation dedicated to law and order, is greater out of place.

The situation imposes a responsibility on parents, schools, colleges and churches. Everyone, in fact, is involved in the education and indoctrination of each new generation. We should all do something — and probably we ought to learn more than we know now — about democracy, Communism, free enterprise, economics and other topics affecting our own and our country's future. Parents have the greatest responsibility and can do more than anyone else to properly orient their sons and daughters.

Man Charged With Murder In Death Of Venice Woman

A 52-year-old Venice woman was shot to death about 10 p.m. Friday in the home of Walter Lee James, 50, of 710 Jackson street, West Madison, who was charged with murder in a warrant signed Saturday by Assistant State Attorney John Giffith.

Mary Jefferson, 52, of 10 West street, described by James as his former "girl friend," was wounded once in the chest by a bullet from a .38-caliber revolver and was pronounced dead upon being taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital. An inquest is to be scheduled by Deputy Coroner Francis Lahey. James denied intentionally firing at the woman but told the jury he aimed the gun at her because he feared her. He waived a preliminary hearing Saturday morning before Justice of the Peace Louis Kismet and was bound over to the county grand jury, being transferred to the county jail.

In a statement to Madison police, James said the woman forced her way into his home through a locked screen door and a dispute developed after she asked for money for flowers due to a death in her family. Once armed and smaller than the woman, he said he became frightened when she advanced on him in a threatening manner and made threatening remarks.

Relating that he feared she might have a knife, he reached under a pillow on his bed to obtain the revolver. He pointed it at her, and the gun fired, he told the police. Walking from the bedroom into the kitchen and bleeding profusely, she returned to the bedroom and collapsed on the floor.

How much time elapsed is uncertain, but police said neighbors reported hearing the shot at about 10 p.m. James later asked a neighbor to summon police and they were called at about 10:30 p.m. The woman was still breathing when they arrived, and an officer summoned the ambulance that took her to the hospital.

Before having the police summoned, James discovered that the woman had no knife, he related. Obtaining a 16-inch butcher knife from his kitchen, he placed it on the floor near her left hand, he said in the statement.

DRAWING OF NEW SCHOOL planned by the Sacred Heart parish. The four-classroom building, including a cafeteria and boiler room, is designed for later expansion. It is to be started this year and completed in time for use beginning in September 1961.

Sacred Heart To Build Second Grade School

A sixth Quad-City Catholic parochial school will be started this year and opened in September 1961, it was announced today. Due to overcrowding of the present Sacred Heart grade school, a new school is being planned by Bishop William A. O'Connor, Fr. Michael Costello pastor, and a committee of laymen from the parish.

The present Sacred Heart school is located at 26th street and Jerden avenue, and the school annex is to be built on an 11.5-acre plot of land purchased several years ago when it became evident that rapid growth of the community would continue. The site, located on the south side of St. Clair avenue between Wayne and Dale avenues, is large enough to accommodate eventual construction of a new church. For the present, the new school is to be known as the Sacred Heart school annex.

$200,000 Fund Drive
The committee has set a minimum goal of $200,000 for the new school fund. An announcement by the group relates that "funds will be sought from anyone, Catholic or non-Catholic, who is interested in bettering the educational system of Granite City."

New System To Speed Handling of Documents

"MICAR," an experimental new system to speed the processing of documents in banks and large businesses, was described for members of the Noonday Optimists Club Thursday by guest speaker Miss Toni Winninger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Winninger of 10 Frontenac lane.

The system, with the five initials standing for "magnetic ink character recognition," was the subject of a display entered by Miss Winninger in the recent Science Fair in St. Louis. She is a student at Notre Dame Academy in Belleville.

Under the new system documents, especially checks, can be processed more rapidly, Miss Winninger explained. Four groups of digits are printed on the document, each group in ink which contains a varying amount of magnetized oxide.

The documents are then fed through business machines which "sort" them, using the number groupings and degree of magnetism as a guide. For instance, the speaker said, the first group of numbers on a check denote the general area it is to be sent to in the process of clearing, the second group the specific bank in that area, the third the individual and his account number and the fourth the exact type of banking transaction. A fifth group of magnetic digits would be added once the check was cashed.

The process is still in the experimental stage, Miss Winninger added, since the exact degree of magnetism must be accurate in all checks, proper decoding machinery is very expensive and the entire process must be highly standardized.

Police Squad Assigned To Owens Paper Plant

Assignment of a special squad of police in the area of the Owens-Illinois Paper Co., Madison plant, Fourth and State streets, to halt trespassing and pilfering was announced today by Madison Police Chief Barney Fraundorf.

In the past six months, at least 30 arrests have been made with some persons fined and others placed under the supervision of the Madison police department youth officer.

Chief Fraundorf said individuals have been entering the property to pilfer, catch pigeons or to take a "short cut" through the plant grounds. However, the management has agreed to co-operate with police and are interested in prosecuting anyone trespassing on the property. Thefts of copper wire and copper gutting have been reported the plant officials have expressed a fear that someone may be electrocuted or may fall off buildings while attempting to catch pigeons.
